PANAMA CITY BEACH, FL Call it a pretty good day for the athletic department at Arnold High School, thanks to St. Joe company.

The latter Thursday morning handing over a ten thousand dollar donation to the school. Janet Greeno representing the company, Arnold's principal, A.D., head football coach, and School Board member Steve Moss on hand to accept the check. That money earmarked specifically to help fix the surface of the baseball field, build an auxiliary practice field, and rubberize the floor on the main athletic building.

"We contacted them with a need, in regards to what's happening at Arnold High School." Bay County School Board member Steve Moss told us. "And they responded in kind with a pretty hefty donation. So they are a great business partner. And today is another example of them stepping up, so we appreciate it."

"Anyone can apply for a grant from the Foundation." says Janet Greeno, the Executive Director of the St. Joe Community Foundation. "We typically only fund Bay and Walton Counties because that's where our funds are derived from. But once I receive the grant, I review it to make sure it's within the guidelines of the Foundation. And then it goes to the Board of Trustees for review."

Some of the work towards improving the facilities is already under way at Arnold.
